Applicability: Depending on the scope of the Pravilnik, the type of goods or service, the sales channel and the date first offered.

For cosmetics first offered after 2 May 2025, Article 3(1), second indent, of the Pravilnik generally refers to the retail price on the date the goods were first offered. Separately check whether the goods were discounted on that date and whether a special provision applies.

When this applies

Keep the first published price list or an archived product record showing the date and channel. Compare it with any discount in effect on that date.

Practical steps

Find the old price list, catalogue export or dated evidence of a sale and flag unresolved products.

Business example

A cream introduced into the regular range in June 2025 had a regular price of €19. The trader documents the date and first price list before entering the amount in the base-price field.

Specific next steps

1. Find the old price list, catalogue export or dated evidence of a sale and flag unresolved products.

Limits of application

Depending on the scope of the Pravilnik, the type of goods or service, the sales channel and the date first offered.
