Applicability: From the notice of 26 November 2026; until regional allocations are exhausted

On 26 November 2026, HAMAG-BICRO announced the closure of new applications for Northern Croatia. According to that notice, the instrument remains open for Pannonian and Adriatic Croatia until the available allocation is exhausted.

Distinguish the publication date from the status check

The notice of 25 November describes ongoing acceptance until funding is exhausted; the later notice of 26 November restricts it by region. This answer was actually checked on 27 November 2026.

Example of checking the region

Before preparing an application, a business in Rijeka checks the conditions for Adriatic Croatia and the available allocation. Location alone does not establish the project's eligibility.

Specific next steps

1. Check the investment region and the latest HAMAG-BICRO notice.
2. Compare your project with the instrument conditions and prepare the supporting documents.
3. Before submitting, check the remaining regional allocation and retain the submission receipt.

Limits of application

This is a summary of official notices, without testing the application system or confirming an individual business's eligibility. An open instrument does not guarantee available funding or loan approval.
